

NOTICE

CNX Resources Corp. has notified the MAWC that it intends to begin hydraulically fracturing a well in Washington Township this week. This resumption of drilling is in line with a plan that was approved by the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection for the site.

MAWC is currently testing and will continue to test the source water in the areas surrounding the activity until full completion of the drilling activity. All test results are available on the MAWC website as they become available. You may continue to watch our website for further updates as the activity continues.
